

REFUSES TO TESTIFY ON LOAN FOR A. DAY

Murray Garsson Stands on Immunity in $100,000
Investigation.

INDICTMENTS WRITTEN Thirty Former Dry Agents and Policemen May Be Implicated.

EX-DIRECTOR'S TRIP OFF Says It's His Duty to Stay Here to Assist Inquiry by Grand Jury.

Murray Garsson, brother of Irving Garsson, suspended dry agent, and alleged to have made a $100,000 loan to R. A. Day & Co., while Ralph A. Day was serving as prohibition enforcement director for New York State, refused to waive immunity yesterday and testify before the Federal Grand Jury investigating liquor fraud cases. Garsson is a member of the National Republican Club. He is said to have been introduced to Mr. Day by George Glynn, former chairman of the Republican State Committee. The money borrowed by Mr. Day "from a member of the National Republican Club" has been repaid "with interest," according to the former prohibition enforcement director. The Grand Jury continued its inquiry into entries in the books of Mr. Day's clerk and suit firm. The entries were explained by Frederick W. Henkel, bookkeeper. Canceled notes and checks, along with correspondence between the Day firm and the Mutual National Bank, are being studied by the Grand Jury in an effort to ascertain "the source" of the huge loan, admittedly made to Mr. Day. Federal officials are not satisfied that Mr. Garsson was financially able to make such a large loan. Mr. Day's contemplated business trip to Europe has been postponed, he said. "In view of the investigation by the Federal Grand Jury," he felt that he might be of service to the Grand Jury and declared it is his duty "to be here to assist in any investigation as to my business or myself." The Grand Jury was excused until Wednesday, when the inquiry that has been under way for nearly two months will be continued. Indictments are understood to have been written against fourteen of the persons alleged to have been involved in "irregularities in the disappearance of liquor stocks from Government warehouses." It is probable that more than thirty indictments, including former dry agents and police officers, will be returned next Friday. The Grand Jury is interested in clearing up "the great mystery" of the withdrawal "on forged removal permits" of 4,000 cases of liquor from the Republic Warehouse, 51 West Thirty-fourth street. The liquor, valued at $200,000, was recovered several weeks ago in a raid by Frank J. Hale and James Kerrigan in the basement of the Standard Carpet Company, 219 East Forty-fourth street. Two men are free in bail in connection with this theft. Members of the Grand Jury and Federal agents investigating the case believe that several "former dry officials" were working in collusion with members of the $100,000 "bootleg ring" said to be responsible for the theft of the liquor.

$7,500 BRIBE PROOF IN JERSEY DRY CASE

Former Agent Says He Made
$9,000 Bookmaking.

Special Dispatch to The New York Herald.
TRENTON, Nov. 3.—Harry E. Sands, formerly prohibition enforcement agent and chief Government witness in the trial of Louis C. Labrecque of Newark, and four confederates indicted for conspiracy to bribe Sands, testified in the United States Court here to-day that in 1924 he made $9,000 as a bookmaker at New York race tracks. The same year he lost $2,000 betting on horse races. The testimony was given when Sands was cross-examined as to his statement that he was worth $60,000 before entering the Government service. He explained that a large part of this money was made in three oyster stands he conducted in Washington, and the rest in real estate transactions. James J. Jones, assistant prohibition commissioner at Washington, produced checks, notes and $7,500 in cash alleged to have been received by Sands in consideration of the testimony to be given by him in three prohibition cases pending against Edmund J. Labrecque, a brother of the defendant, in the present case.

DENIES HALIFAX AIDS BOOTLEGGING HERE

Minister of Customs Resents
Charges Concerning Bottling.

OTTAWA, Nov. 3.—Jacques Bureau, Minister of Customs, to-day denied that whisky was being bottled in Halifax for bootlegging in the United States, "under the protection of the Dominion Government and in defiance of the will of the people of Nova Scotia." "The Province has the bootlegging situation well in hand," the Minister said. "We never grant a license for a bonded warehouse without the consent of the Attorney-General of the Province. In the case of Halifax, the consent of the Attorney-General of that Province was obtained before a license for a bonded warehouse was granted."

AGENTS SEIZE $25,000 WINE AND WHISKY STOCK

Officers Locate Liquor by Dickering With Bootleggers.

Whisky and wine valued at $25,000 were seized yesterday by Charles Guttman, Harry Drescher and Peter Roeger, dr. agents, in a raid on the Santini Warehouse, 441 East 149th street, The Bronx. The liquor was located, Guttman said, after negotiations had been made to purchase a large supply of the whisky from an agent of a bootlegging concern. Ray Santini, manager of the warehouse, was summoned to appear before Samuel H. Mitchell, United States Commissioner, for arraignment on a charge of violating the Volstead law.

SIX LIQUOR SHIPS ANCHOR FIVE MILES FROM COAST

Dry Navy Can't Molest Them, Says Appleby, if They Stay Three Miles From Jersey Shore—All
From Bahamas, $1,000,000 in Whisky Aboard.

The rum running ring working out of Nassau, the Bahamas, set a new record for liquor shipments during the week ended October 31, according to cable advices received yesterday by the Customs Department. Six British schooners left that port with cargoes of whisky. Four of the vessels cleared for St. Pierre, Miquelon, and two for Tampico, Mexico. The increasing shipments of liquor from the Bahamas are attributed to the State Department's interpretation of international marine laws that liquor laden vessels may not be seized outside of the three mile limit unless they communicate with shore. Dozens of the rum running vessels, purportedly clearing for St. Pierre and Tampico, anchor in Atlantic waters four or five miles off the New York and New Jersey coasts, and transfer their cargoes to motor launches which bring the illicit liquor into port. More than $1,000,000 worth of whisky is known to be on vessels standing outside the three mile limit. The "bootleg ring" responsible for the clandestine shipments is made up, say Customs officials, of wealthy men, who "through their smuggling operations are making millions upon millions of dollars." Cooperation of the New York harbor police and the sheriff's office of coastal counties in New York and New Jersey, has been asked by the Customs Department in an effort to prevent the landing of the frequent illicit cargoes. The four British schooners that cleared from Nassau last week are anchored five miles off the New Jersey coast, John D. Appleby, director of the prohibition navy, said last night. They have been sighted by rum chasers of the dry navy, but cannot be molested so long as they remain outside the three mile limit.

HUGE RADIO STATION HERE FOR PROGRAMS

Radio Corporation Putting Up
Antennae on Aeolian Building at Bryant Park.

Two 100 foot skeleton towers to hold the antennae for the most powerful radio broadcasting station in the world, capable of sending out two concert programs at the same time on different wave lengths, are being erected on the Aeolian Building, 23 West Forty-second street. The new station will have direct connection between the Aeolian concert halls and the transmitting apparatus, so that the recitals of artists can be sent broadcast direct to special performances at transmitting stations unnecessary. The station is being constructed by the Radio Corporation of America in conjunction with the companies the sale of whose products it controls. Installation of the apparatus was begun a few days ago, when negotiations for the site were closed after being pending nearly a year. It is expected that the station will be ready by January 1. Engineers in the research department of the Radio Corporation have been experimenting for some time to create an apparatus for direct connection between the concert halls and the transmitting apparatus and for broadcasting two programs at the same time, and it is thought they have succeeded fully. One of the programs will be sent on a wave length of 360 meters and the other at 400 meters. This will enable radio receivers to choose between a program of lectures, market reports, etc., and one of musical and vocal recitals. The station will be the metropolitan headquarters for the combined broadcasting of the larger radio companies in New York. The selection of Aeolian Hall was made after a survey of all possible sites in the city. It was necessary to find a building with a clear aerial path and accessible to artists. Large quarters on the sixth floor of the Aeolian Building have been arranged for the Radio Corporation's program studios. A simple switch will control the relaying of the concert to the antennae. If the artist does not wish an offering sent broadcast the switch may be turned off. The station is expected to serve as a model for radio construction. Much specially devised equipment will be used. The station will have use of all the musical facilities of the Aeolian Company, including its pipe organ.

COURT WILL NOT ENJOIN STATEN ISLAND GAS CO.

$1.25 Rate and 75 Cents Service Charge Continues.

Justice Mitchell May in the Supreme Court Brooklyn, deny yesterday an application for an injunction and dismissed the complaint against the New York and Richmond Gas Company, brought by the Staten Island Gas Company, New Brighton, S. I. He held that the Public Service Commission has full power to deal with rates. Haggerty sought to restrain the gas concern from collecting 1.25 a thousand cubic feet of gas and a service charge of 75 cents monthly, which the plaintiff declared was excessive.

TIGHE TO STAY IN JAIL FOR ATTACKING WOMAN

Appellate Division Upholds
Conviction of Policeman.

The Appellate Division of the Supreme Court yesterday affirmed the conviction of Charles Tighe, plain clothes policeman, for assaulting Mrs. Emma Lennon of 24 West 117th street, July 28, 1921. He was sentenced by Judge Thomas C. T. Crain in General Sessions from two to four years in Sing Sing. The assault occurred at Forty-third street and Ninth avenue after Tighe and another plain clothes policeman had arrested several men in a saloon at that corner. Mrs. Lennon testified that Tighe struck her and called her names.

GREEK AND ARMENIAN GIRL FUGITIVES ARRIVE

Six Who Escaped From Turkey
Will Be Married To-day.

Eighty-five Greek and Armenian girls, most of them fugitives from the Turkish invasion, have been admitted to the United States through Ellis Island as the November quota of these countries. Six will be married to-day by the Municipal Marriage License Bureau. The marriages were arranged by the girls' families in Asia Minor. The International Institute of the Y. W. C. A. and the Hebrew Sheltering Society are caring for them.

GETS $52,500 DAMAGES; SOBS OVER DISABILITY

McKeown Says He'd Rather Have Use of His Legs.

A jury before Supreme Court Justice McChesick awarded $52,500 yesterday to Sylvester McKeown of 11A Moffat street, Brooklyn, whose legs were paralyzed in an elevator accident at 783 East 116th street, The Bronx. McKeown, who is 34 years old, sued the Parker Supply Company and the owner of the building it occupied to recover $100,000. Asked if he was satisfied with the verdict, McKeown, with tears in his eyes, said: "Yes, but I would rather have the use of my legs."

Whoever We Are and Wherever We be we are fronting another world.

The maker of us made millions of pebbles, which the sea washes up on every shore, and He made millions of blades of grass and millions of birds to one human being. We can scarcely count the stars, but there must be on the earth more men and women than the countless leaves on the trees. We cannot all be generals, doctors or preachers, but we can be plain, honest, unselfish men and women, helping each other to live a true life.

Annual Sale of Misses' Coats and Wraps

$61,650 worth for $36,990

200 "Sample" coats (the maker's best efforts) and wraps from three tailors whom we consider best of their kind in New York. Also reproductions, made to our order, of eleven of the most successful models of the season.

MATERIALS are from the finest looms of England, France and America—sports weaves in coats with large shawl collars of natural raccoon and Australian opossum and the soft pile materials necessary to truly interpret the new ideas of Paris.

The exquisite plain silk linings—many are fine crepes—deserve especial mention.

Collars of Fine FURS

Ninety-five out of every hundred coats in the Sale have generously proportioned collars of carefully selected furs—some also have fur cuffs or trimmings. The furs on these coats alone represent an achievement. All have received the cachet of Paris. They include beaver, black caracul, squirrel, fitch, taupe and platinum dyed fox, Australian opossum and natural raccoon.

The colors of the coats are the rich brown tones and lovely cocoa and caramel shades—wine color—kit fox gray—navy blue—black—approved of Paris.
